

(Love song) For Annie (Kaleidoscope/Fairfield Parlour)

Am C D F
Come, all ye non-believers, feel the creases in her brow.

Am C D F
Look once and then you'll know she was not very loud.

C G F C
Touch her eyes and feel the shadows growing on her face.

C G F G
Take seconds to catch your breath before you slow the pace.

Am C D F
Come, all ye non-believers, but leave your books behind.

Am C D F
Your knowledge is wasted here, for love there's always time.

C G F C
Reach out for emptiness as she crowds you from the room.

C G F G
Let falling tears paint your face but don't do it too soon.

C G F C
Take time for Annie, she would love to see your face.

C G F C
Be kind for Annie, spread out a little place.

Am C D F
Come, all ye non-believers, break the bread and drink the wine.

Am C D F
Give her your baited breath, for love there's always time.

C G F C
Fall down around her feet, let her walk upon your hands.

C G F G
Let your tears be like a sea, do everything you can.

C G F C
Take time for Annie, she would love to see your face.

C G F C
Be kind for Annie, spread out a little place.

C G C G F
Listen, but forever is a time you'll never know .

Am C D F
Come, all ye non-believers, break the bread and drink the wine.

Am C D F
Give her your baited breath, for love there's always time.

C G F C
Fall down around her feet, let her walk upon your hands.

C G F G
Let your tears be like a sea, do everything you can.

Aah! Ah aah ah...
