Let me walk a while alone among the sacred rocks and stones.

Let me look in vain belief upon the beauty of each leaf.

Dm                                         Em                 Dm

There is green in every blade, the tree tops lean providing shade.

Maples spin in happy song, all nature’s strength around.

And there's a horse that feels no pain, it's iron strength to take the strain.

Children rock it to and from and gayly drink its colour glow.

Above, the sky, devoid of cloud, thinks not to cast a thunder shroud.

Upon this place so full of joy, a field of gold at loves employ.

So why my heavy heart you say when tears would stain, a sight so gay.

My brother's dream once here did soar until he died at the hand of needless war.
